Short Course Description	The course focuses on the sharing and discussion of formal properties of drama and studies the conventions of the genre as it develops within or across historical periods and/or cultures. The course should also ask the students to trace back the historical and cultural events which shaped the writing of the pieces from ancient to modern ones, both English and American drama. The students are supposed to understand the nature of drama production and performance on the stage so that they should be able to cooperate with each other to perform the works onto the works of stage. The classroom activities are conducted through presentation, performance, group discussion, question and answer, and peer assessment.
