Short Course Description	This course aims to provide a comprehensive explanation of zakat, which has long been one of the fifth pillars of Islam. The study of zakat will indeed continue along with the increase in quality of human resources, so that the types of assets produced vary, for example with the existence of several professions that can produce assets quickly. In order to achieve social justice, this zakat management course also presents a distribution system and management of zakat bodies that are accountable and accountable.
